At the end of 2003, ISO's worldwide membership comprised the principal standards organizations of 148 countries.

Of these, 97 were member bodies, which are entitled to participate and exercise full voting rights within ISO.

ISO also counted 36 correspondent members. These are usually organizations in countries that do not yet have a fully developed national standards activity. Correspondent members do not take an active part in ISO's technical work and have no voting rights, but are entitled to attend meetings as observers and to be kept fully informed about the work of interest to them.

In addition, ISO had 15 subscriber members. These are from countries with very small economies. They pay reduced membership fees that nevertheless allow them to be in contact with international standardization.
